The Study Panel is also grateful to the Brazilian Academy of Sciences, the Chinese Academy of Sciences, the French Academy of Sciences, the Indian National Science Academy, and the Science Council of Japan for their contributions in hosting the regional IAC energy workshops.
The Study Panel appreciates the contribution of authors who prepared background papers that, together with the consultative workshops, provided the essential building blocks for the report. Those involved were John Ahearne, Robert U. Ayres, Isaias de Carvalho Macedo, Vibha Dhawan, J. B. Greenblatt, Jiang Yi, Liu Zhen Yu, Amory B. Lovins, Cedric Philibert, K. Ramanathan, Jack Siegel, Xu Zhihong, Qingshan Zhu, and Roberto Zilles.

The Study Panel is most grateful for the extraordinary contributions of Jos van Renswoude, Study Director, for organizing the entire study panel process, and along with Dilip Ahuja, Consultant, and Marika Tatsutani, Writer/Editor, for the successful completion of the report writing process.

The InterAcademy Council (IAC) Secretariat and the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences (KNAW) in Amsterdam, where IAC is headquartered, provided guidance and support for this study. In this regard, special mention is made of the assistance provided by John P. Campbell, IAC Executive Director; Albert W. Koers, IAC General Counsel; Stéphanie Jacometti, Communications Coordinator; and Margreet Haverkamp, Shu-Hui Tan, Floor van den Born, Ruud de Jong, and Henrietta Beers of the IAC Secretariat. Ellen Bouma, Publication Designer, and Sheldon I. Lippman, Editorial Consultant, prepared the final manuscript for publication.

The Study Panel gratefully acknowledges the leadership exhibited by the Government of China, the Government of Brazil, the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, the Energy Foundation, the German Research Foundation (DFG), and the United Nations Foundation, which provided the financial support for the conduct of the study and the printing and distribution of this report.

Last but by no means least, the Study Panel thanks the InterAcademy Council Board and especially Bruce Alberts and Lu Yongxiang, IAC Co-Chairs, for providing the opportunity to undertake this important study.
